

To all A.A. Members,

The CPC committee is looking for dedicated people with a desire to spread the good news of recovery, for the suffering alcoholic, directly to the professionals in our communities. This is a very rewarding way of giving back to A.A., perhaps in a different way than you used to; however, once involved I believe that you will find it an exciting and fulfilling way and enhance your journey in sobriety.

There are many ways to be a part of this integral program of delivering the A.A. message on this committee. Some of the important things we will need you to do are as follows, but not exhaustive.

Performing informational research, from your own home.

Going to monthly meetings, socializing with like-minded people (coffee anyone?)

Brainstorming, giving new ideas and insight into other ways and places to carry the message.

Making necessary phone calls to professional agencies, schools, service providers etc.

Attending & participating in informational presentations, seminars, or fairs.

Sharing your individual stories with professionals who would never hear them, without you.

Helping professionals determine that the A.A. program could provide a solution to alcoholism in their various workplaces.

In the past we have been invited to provide informational sessions in business schools, a variety of social shelters, employment facilities and fairs, and these are just a few that I have been involved with in my short period with this committee. The word is getting out there and there will be many, many more opportunities that haven't even been thought of yet. If you have any spare time at home or to go out with us in the community, we would love to have you on board; we need you! I don't believe that you will regret one minute of this exciting program of action and recovery going forward if you choose to help us to reach the suffering alcoholic.

Please give this some serious thought and give yourself another avenue where you can grow in your spirituality and flourish in Alcoholics Anonymous! For more information contact information is provided below, thank you.

Sincerely in loyal service!
